```
{
  "reasoning": "The article discusses the ongoing Russia-Ukraine war, which started in February 2014 and escalated in February 2022 with a full-scale invasion by Russia. The conflict involves Russia and Ukraine, affecting general economic activity in these countries. It is a geopolitical disruption affecting multiple aspects of life and economy in the regions involved.",
  "ongoing_disruption": true,
  "type": "Geopolitical",
  "scope": "country",
  "involved": {
    "countries": [
      "Ukraine",
      "Russia"
    ],
    "industries": [],
    "companies": []
  },
  "summary": "The article reports on the ongoing Russia-Ukraine war, which began in 2014 and intensified in 2022, causing widespread disruption in both countries. The conflict is geopolitical, affecting various aspects of life and economy in the regions involved."
}
```